Description
Desktop specifically, still needs a little more work
I think we need a little more delineation between events. (bit of padding / box around each listing maybe?)
Little space between dates (currently white text in dark grey box) - maybe slightly bigger text?
Something to make the rds / and what would be a promoted events "pop out to the eye" (we can take a sample event and make it promoted to test - essentially though the marker to "make an event a promoted event" within the listings is that there is a book ticket link in it. So perhaps if there is a "Book ticket" link active, some style change that "highlightsa" the event listing somehow -)
Also a check; if an event is venue = RDS Drive In , or there is a book ticket link (ie promoted event) these appear at the top of the day's listings. Then the rest of the bog standard listings after it
